bio-protocol Preprint

Not Peer Reviewed
Ask a question online

Antibodies

Ji Eun Oh
Akiko Iwasaki

Updated date: Feb 2, 2022

An abbreviated version of this protocol was published in Science Immunology in Dec 2021

Intranasal priming induces local lung-resident B cell populations that secrete protective mucosal antiviral IgA

DOI: 10.1126/sciimmunol.abj5129

Related files

ELISA protocol.png

How to cite:(Readers should cite both the Bio-protocol preprint and the original research article where this protocol was used)

1. Oh, J. and Iwasaki, A. (2022). Antibodies. Bio-protocol Preprint. bio-protocol.org/prep1524.
2. Oh, J. E., Song, E., Moriyama, M., Wong, P., Zhang, S., Jiang, R., Strohmeier, S., Kleinstein, S. H., Krammer, F. and Iwasaki, A.(2021). Intranasal priming induces local lung-resident B cell populations that secrete protective mucosal antiviral IgA. Science Immunology 6(66). DOI: 10.1126/sciimmunol.abj5129

Copyright: Content may be subjected to copyright.